The ANS Annual Scientific Meeting

37 years and going strong

The Australasian Neuroscience Society (ANS), encompassing both Australia and New Zealand, is one of Australasia's largest biomedical societies. ANS was founded in 1971 making it one of the world's oldest neuroscience societies. Our society enables interactions and links between the laboratory and clinic, between different disciplines, between experienced and young scientists and between neuroscientists and the public to embrace the wonder of, and challenges posed by, the human brain and nervous system.

We are highly respected internationally as a leading organisation, particularly in the Asia-Pacific region. Our members come from diverse disciplines and work in laboratories, classrooms and clinical environments. We have joint arrangements to promote neuroscience in the region with the Federation of Asian-Oceania Neuroscience Societies (FAONS) and the Asia-Pacific regional committee of the International Brain Research Organisation (IBRO). More broadly, ANS has close links with the Federation of European Neuroscience Societies (FENS) and the Society for Neuroscience (SfN) in the USA.

The ANS Annual Scientific Meeting is one of the largest annual biomedical conferences held in the Australasian region. What started out four decades ago as a 150-person meeting has grown into a major convention of up to 700+ delegates attending presentations by numerous highly acclaimed national and international experts.

The 2018 meeting represents an excellent opportunity for your organisation to be represented to a wide audience. The ASM is ideally placed to offer an unparalleled opportunity to meet these individuals in a face-to-face environment.

Your partnership will enable you to ask key questions and gain significant market intelligence, developing an essential platform from which to promote your products, and ultimately, to increase your market penetration.

Don't miss the exciting opportunity to showcase your organisation at this national meeting. The current and next generation of Australasia's brightest minds will be there to meet you.

We invite you to take some time to read through the opportunities available, and how you can contribute to a brighter future for Australian and New Zealand brain science. We want to enhance the quality of life for our citizens through advances in understanding of the nervous system, and with your help, we can.

2018 CONFERENCE

The 2018 event will be held at the Brisbane Convention and Exhibition Centre (BCEC). Opened in 1995, BCEC is one of Australia's premier venues for events, exhibitions and conferences.
